POSITION SUMMARY:

Huron is seeking individuals with a passion for problem solving with technology. Our Analysts come from diverse backgrounds and have immediate access to the training and coaching they need to drive impact and develop into the innovators and leaders of tomorrow. They typically spend 75% or more of their time digging deep into the details of our software databases, business intelligence visualizations (analytics), configurations, and tools.

- Enhance analytical skills while working as part of a team
- Be paired with a technical mentor and coach to guide professional development
- Develop technical competencies as well as communication, project management, and leadership skills
- Learn both client facing (functional) and technical aspects of Huron’s software solutions
- Directly impact overall client and team goals with collaborative technical solutions

Responsibilities of a Technical Analyst include the following (prior experience not required):

- Database manipulation such as updating and creating SQL functions, procedures, tables, views, and other database objects
- Additional responsibilities vary from client to client and may include a combination of: business systems analysis, technical requirements gathering, solution design, data integration, system configuration, release management, deployment of client-specific reporting, remote customer support, and documentation
- May require off-hours monitoring and high-priority on-call support on a rotating basis and occasional off-hours scheduled maintenance.

You will be part of a dynamic team focused not only on the needs of the client, but also on offering you opportunities that align with your interests. We want to support you as you pursue your professional development objectives.

We pride ourselves on our inclusive company culture and the quality of talent within our organization. The variety of backgrounds on our teams are what make our solutions successful and pushes our employees to be creative and innovative in their approach. You will work with an incredibly bright, diverse, and talented group of people. We hold ourselves to the highest standards of professionalism in order to meet the high expectations of both our clients and ourselves. At Huron you will make a positive difference and achieve your potential.

Join Huron’s premier Healthcare Software team and be prepared to make a difference fast!

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Strong performance in your degree of choice, with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0
  - We hire from a variety of backgrounds, including business, technology, information systems, engineering, science, and liberal arts
- Passion for technology driven problem solving and strong analytical skills
- Currently reside in the Portland metro area or be willing to relocate to Portland area upon hire
- Ability to communicate with a wide variety of audiences (technical and non-technical, staff and managerial), and in a wide range of settings (e.g., one-on-one, small group, in person, on conference calls and via e-mail)
